Supply Chain requirements

As a responsible company our employment and recruitment processes are open, fair, inclusive and subject to regular review to ensure employees and candidates identities and their right to work. Our most likely exposure to Modern Slavery is through our supply chain. We have updated our sub-contractor questionnaires to identify those that have Modern Slavery Statements and require that those that do not must accept the core principles of our policies and the requirements of our Modern Slavery Statement. This will be monitored annually. The vast majority of our supply chain is UK and EU based, we have a supply chain risk assessment process to identify and mitigate any areas of significant risk. To date we have found no instances of Modern Slavery or labour abuse of any kind. We contact suppliers to raise awareness of the issues of Modern Slavery and express our zero tolerance approach. WJ Group Ltd has not, to its knowledge, conducted any business with another organisation which has been found to have involved itself with modern slavery.

Staff and Supply Chain awareness training

We use our training events to promote awareness of modern slavery and the issues surrounding it amongst all staff. Ensuring that senior managers are aware of the issues and have support to deal with any instances or suspicions that may arise. WJ Group speak widely at supply chain events throughout the UK on the importance of collaboration in promoting responsible contracting and at our own training and supply chain events, awareness of Modern Slavery is included within this. All WJ staff have had awareness training as a part of our training programs. At these events we will supply links to, the Gangmasters and Labour Abuse Authority (GLAA Reporting line: 0800 432 0804) <https://www.glaa.gov.uk/i-am-a/i-use-workers/construction-protocol/> The Modern Slavery Helpline: (08000 121700) <https://www.modernslaveryhelpline.org/> and The Supply Chain Sustainability School: <https://www.supplychainschool.co.uk/default/modern-slavery.aspx> who have considerable resource available on the subject of modern slavery including courses, e learning and online resource which are free to use.
